Farmers' agitation continues in Kundapur police station.

The farmers continued on a protest to prevent MCO when the authorities were planning to evict them from the playground. The police had earlier given an assurance that the crop would not be plowed out of the land where the farmers had been staying for the last five to 10 years. However, the police decided to evict them on Friday morning. The farmers were planning to continue their protest for another day on Saturday.

District In-charge Minister B Rajendra and MLA Bhavanagiri S Ramanath have once again notified the farmers that their agitation has to be stopped. The two leaders have said that they will not allow any violence or clashes during the protest.

The farmers were planning to continue their protest for another day on Saturday. They have said that they will not give up their demand for compensation and will continue their agitation until their demands are met.

The farmers have been protesting against the proposed road construction on the NH-66 after the completion of 85% of the project. The farmers have said that the road will be a burden on their livelihood and they will not allow any violence or clashes during the protest.

On Friday, the District In-charge Minister and MLA Bhavanagiri S Ramanath had visited the protest site and assured the farmers that their demands would be looked into. However, the farmers have said that they will continue their protest until their demands are met.
